DEATHS.

Departed this life, on Wednesday morning, the 26th inst., JOSEPHINE, youngest daughter of THOMAS HAYES, Esq., in the 8th year of her age.

When death sends his summons to the aged and the infirm, it resembles the reaper's sickle entering the field ripe for harvest; but when he strikes his poisoned arrow at the vitals of youth and innocence 'tis like nipping the rose-bud, ere its beauties are fully disclosed, or like the fall of the flowers scattered by some rude withering Autumblast. So mild, so beautiful, was the subject of this notice, that she was not only the idol of the family circle, but an object of affectionate interest and tender regard to a large circle of friends, who now mourn her loss. But we do not mourn as those without hope; we feel that she has been transplanted to a happier clime—the Angel's play-ground is now her home—flesh-stripped, but glory-clad spirits her companions—the bosom of Jesus her pillow. Lovely, even in death, she looked like some fair spirit

Lost in an aerial flight,
From Heaven's paradisaical height.

But Death will
"Tho her frail dust mingles with the clod,
Be but the veil, that lifted, shows her God.
Lines suggested by gazing for the last time upon her lovely corpse.

And has Death set his cygnet seal upon this marble brow?
And must the long and last farewell be slowly whispered now?
Alas! the music of thy voice shall greet our ears no more,
'Till welcomed by its melodies upon the peace-bell sound.

We cannot think that thou art gone, although the deep-toned bell
Strikes on our heart, in mournful sounds, our sister's funeral knell.

We cannot realize our loss; it seems to us that sleep
Has only closed these eyes, and we should no more weep.

But oh the dread reality—tho' art shrouded for the tomb,
And friends have placed upon thy breast the emblems of thy doom.

But yet a glorious crown is thine above the sunny sky,
And angels twined the wreath for thee with buds that never die.

Thy tinsel'd car by seraphs borne and wafted far away,
Is glittering now amid the throng that dwell in endless day.

And we will try to thank our God for the sweet promise given,
That soon we'll outlive every storm and meet thee home in Heaven.

NOTICE.—MARION DIVISION No. 7.—Meet at their room on Monday night next, at 6 o'clock, for the purpose of visiting Crysta Fount Division No. 3 in a body at half-past 7 o'clock.

To the Publishing Committee of the Columbian Foundation.

GENTLEMEN: A report (highly flattering to my vanity) having been pretty generally circulated that I was one of the Publishing Committee of the Columbian Fountain, I deem it my duty to undeceive the public in the matter. I beg leave to inform them that I was appointed as one of said committee when formed, (which probably gave rise to the report,) but owing to various circumstances, it was not in my power to act, and I therefore resigned previous to the issue of the first number of the Columbian Fountain. For the favorable estimate which my friends had formed of my abilities, I feel grateful, but candor compels me to declare that I do not think myself competent, (if which is not the case, leisure was even afforded me) to undertake so arduous a task. With my best wishes for your success, I am, gentlemen, most respectfully, yours,

WHITWELL'S

TEMPERANCE BITTERS.

BITTERS may now be resorted to without the imputation of dram-drinking. They are composed of some of the choicest roots of our own country, besides those of foreign growth, and in addition to those numerous and highly important ingredients, they also contain as much of the extract of Sarsaparilla and Tomatoes as any bitters in the market. Price 25 cents for a pint bottle.

Extract from a respectable Temperance paper.
"The use of tonics or bitters in certain constitutions is unquestionable; therefore, as the firm and unflinching friends of Temperance, we do most sincerely recommend, (especially for females,) the Temperance Bitters, prepared by J. P. Whitwell & Son, in preference to any other composition, where Alcohol or wine alone are employed."
Also, Swayne's Syrup of Wild Cherry, James' Expectoant, R. Thompson's Life Preserver, Bull's Sarsaparilla, Wright's Indian Vegetable, Beckwith's, Dr. Leidy's, Brandreth's, Peters, and Dr. Rush's pills, &c., &c.

Important to Gentlemen.

EDWARD MCCUBBIN has handsomely fitted up the three-story house recently erected on the site of his former stand, where he will be happy to resume his business as a barber and hair dresser. He very respectfully invites a return of his old and esteemed customers, and solicits the patronage of the public generally to the Temple of Fashion, No. 1, on 8th street, near Pennsylvania avenue. With the most competent assistants, and every description of materials that can render his operations a luxury, instead of a dull, sleepy process, he flatters himself that to him will be accorded the credit of keeping pace with the times in all that has a tendency to add to the comfort and improve the appearance of the outer man.

Not only in the face has Nature made
Its comeliness and beauty to abound,
But in the scissors' edge and razor's blade
The aids to loveliness are ever found.

PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

FACULTY AND INSTRUCTORS.
Rev. C. P. KRAUTH, D. D., President and Professor of Moral Science.
Rev. H. S. BAUGHER, A. M., Professor of Greek and Rhetoric.
Rev. M. JACOBS, A. M., Professor of Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, &c.
Rev. W. M. REYNOLDS, A. M., Professor of Latin, Mental Philosophy, &c.
M. L. STOEVEY, A. M., Professor of History and Principal of Preparatory Department.
Rev. C. A. HAY, A. M., Professor of German Language and Literature.
HERMAN HART, A. M., Professor of Mathematics.
WM. HENRY HARRISON, A. B., Assistant Professor of Languages.
DAVID GILBERT, M. D., Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology.
Rev. J. G. MORRIS, D. D., Lecturer on Zoology.
WM. ALBAUGH, A. M., Tutor and Teacher in Preparatory Department.
H. R. GEIGER, Teacher of Writing.

The course of studies in Pennsylvania College is as extensive and substantial as that of any institution in the country. The Preparatory Department provides for instruction in all the branches of a thorough English business education, in addition to the Elements of the Mathematics and Classical Literature. The College course is arranged in the four classes usual in the institutions of this country.

The government of the students is as energetic as their circumstances seem to require. They attend at least two recitations a day, and the Faculty contemplate increasing them to three, Church and Bible Class on the Sabbath, and are visited in their rooms so frequently as to preclude the danger of any great irregularities. It is believed no institution in the United States has more exemplary young men in connexion with it. They are all required to lodge in the College edifice, special cases excepted.

The annual expenses are—for board, tuition and room rent, during the winter session $61 1-2; for the summer session, $41 7-12; washing, $10; wood, $3 00. Total expense, $116 75. Boarding can be had in town at $1 25 per week.

There are two vacations in the year, commencing on the third Thursdays of April and September; each of five weeks continuance.
The summer session will commence on Thursday, the 22d of May. The annual commencement takes place on the third Thursday in September.
The Trustees have recently made various arrangements which will increase the efficiency of the Institution. They have increased the number of Professors and provided for the most ample instruction of the students.
Professor Baugher and Haupt are prepared to board boys and to exercise a special supervision over their studies and deportment, and Parents who may prefer placing their sons under their care, will be secure in regard to their proper management, under arrangements such as pertain to the family circle.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NEW LIBRARY

OF LAW AND EQUITY, under the direction of Francis J. Troubat, esq., of Philadelphia; Hon. Ellis Lewis, of Lancaster; and Wilson McCandless, Esq., of Pittsburgh.

This work contains the best productions of English law authors, without regard to priority of claim on the part of any American publisher. Such books are now notoriously too dear. The reason is, that as fast as they appear, they become monopolies in the hands of booksellers in the Atlantic cities. Under the plea of right, acquired by the addition of notes of American decisions, the latter claim an undivided title to those works, and set a burdensome price on them. The publishers of the work now offered to the profession throughout the Union, will not respect such titles, but will reprint the standard British law books as fast as they emanate from the London market. Should new editions of the works of such writers as Starkie, the Chittys, Stephen, and Archibold, appear, they shall also be included; and digests of equity and law decisions—works which have been studiously kept out of the Law Library published at Philadelphia—shall have a place in the proposed new one, together with every new valuable English treatise on chancery or common law.

This work will be issued monthly, in numbers of 160 pages, printed on fine white paper, and good new long primer type, at seven dollars per annum, payable half yearly.
